END-OF-SEASON CUP COMPETITION

Each year we offer clubs the opportunity to play in an end-of-season cup competition. The competition is dependent on sufficient clubs wishing to take part AND a sufficient number of grounds available to host matches. If your ground is available, it's a great opportunity to earn some extra income by running your canteen. We attempt to play three matches at each venue, each week, at 11am, 1pm and 3pm.

If you are interested in playing in this years competition, please let us know by return email. Please tell us whether or not your ground is available to host matches.

There is no entry fee, but your club account for 2010 must be settled in full before you will be permitted to take part.

REFEREEING

FOULS

Law 12 governs Fouls and Misconduct. The law provides a list of things that players are not permitted to do, and provides various degrees of punishments for players who offend. There is little doubt that judging fouls is the referee's most common task. Two very common fouls committed by players are those of charging an opponent and holding an opponent.

This article examines the directives to referees on interpreting charges on an opponent and holding an opponent.

CHARGING AND HOLDING

Charging an opponent

The act of charging is a challenge for space using physical contact within playing distance of the ball without using arms or elbows.

It is an offence to charge an opponent:

- in a careless manner
- in a reckless manner
- using excessive force

Holding an opponent

Holding an opponent includes the act of preventing him from moving past or around using the hands, the arms or the body. Referees are reminded to make an early intervention and to deal firmly with holding offences especially inside the penalty area at corner kicks and free kicks.

To deal with these situations:

- the referee must warn any player holding an opponent before the ball is in play
- caution the player if the holding continues before the ball is in play
- award a direct free kick or penalty kick and caution the player if it happens once the ball is in play

If a defender starts holding an attacker outside the penalty area and continues holding him inside the penalty area, the referee must award a penalty kick.

Disciplinary sanctions

- A caution for unsporting behaviour must be issued when a player holds an opponent to prevent him gaining possession of the ball or taking up an advantageous position
- A player must be sent off if he denies an obvious goalscoring opportunity by holding an opponent
- No further disciplinary action must be taken in other situations of holding an opponent

Restart of play

Direct free kick from the position where the offence occurred (see Law 13 – Position of free kick) or a penalty kick if the offence occurred inside the penalty area.
